Paptic's Quality and Product Safety Policy

October 2025

Paptic works to replace plastics in packaging with sustainable, recyclable, and circular solutions to decrease the use of fossil raw materials. We exist because the world needs better packaging.

Our Quality and Product Safety Policy demonstrates Paptic's commitment to quality and product safety. The Policy sets principles for Paptic's operations and determines objectives for quality and product safety management and related management systems to ensure effective processes and activities to meet customers' and other stakeholders' expectations.

- Leadership and engagement – in addition to the strong commitment and encouragement of management, we believe quality is made by each of us – everyone is needed. We take an open and inclusive approach to quality; everyone's ideas, improvement suggestions and observations are valued, listened to, evaluated, and the relevant observations are put into action. Paptic's quality is made by Paptic people.
- Customer focus – we actively communicate and collaborate with our customers to understand and fulfil their expectations as a reliable partner. We develop our internal operations, processes, and Paptic materials to serve customers well, efficiently and in a harmonized way, ensuring that our products are also safe to use. Paptic provides its customers and other stakeholders with reliable data and transparent communications.
- Continuous improvement – we continuously improve our processes and quality management system. We have a process with internal and external auditing practices in place, and we are always striving to improve.
- Compliance – we comply with the legislation and regulations of the countries where we operate and are committed to meeting customer requirements. We are dedicated to following relevant standards and ensuring compliance with all necessary product safety requirements.
